Good News!

About a year ago we gave notice that leather had advanced and that we would advance the prices on our shoes rather than cheapen the quality. We DID advance the prices and told our customers the facts instead of trying to conceal them.

Leather has declined!

Not to the full extent of the advance but enough to justify us in putting all shoes down to the lowest prices at which we sold them when leather was at its lowest point. This means a saving 25c a pair on men's cheap and medium shoes.

Special!

100 pairs fine Kid Button Shoes with heels, all 1's; original price $1.50 to $4.50; for 50c.

IF IT IS NEW AND TRUE THIS COLUMN HAS IT.

Dr. Eager's Successor Appointed—Shot in the Foot—Fined For His Fun—Asylum Attendants on a Strike—Callaway Court Matters.

Dr. Eager's Successor Appointed.

Dr. F. A. Miller, of Owensboro, has been appointed first assistant physician for the western asylum for the insane, near this city, by Gov. Bradley. Dr. Miller was notified of his appointment. He says he will, if understood, assume his new duties at once. The place pays $1,250 per annum with board for himself and family.

In a recent issue of the Kentuckian it was stated that Dr. Eager had been removed from his position as physician to the asylum. Dr. Eager assures us that no such offer was made him. While he left at the time he did voluntarily, he did so simply in justice to his private business arrangements made months before.

Crashed by a Falling Limb.

Andrew Fort, col. of this city, met with a very serious if not fatal accident Monday afternoon, while engaged in trimming trees in the yard of Mr. J. H. Anderson, on South Main. He was standing in the fork of a cypress tree near the ground, while sawing on the upper part of the trunk, when a branch fell upon him, driving him down and crushing his body between two pieces of the trunk. His cries brought other workmen to his assistance, but he was terrible bruised and badly crushed when extricated from his awful situation. It is thought that he received fatal internal injuries.

shot Himself in the Foot.

Alex. Campbell, Jr., son of Squire Alex. Campbell, of North Main Street, met with a very serious and painful accident Tuesday morning, while out looking for some sport along the creek. He was hit in the head with a Winchester rifle in his hands, and while waiting for fish to appear on the surface of the water he rested the barrel of the gun on his foot. In an absent minded way he pulled the trigger of the rifle when it exploded, the ball passing through his foot, inflicting an ugly and very painful wound.

Another Blaze at Princeton.

Princeton, Ky., April 19.—One of the most disastrous fires that ever occurred here was discovered this morning about 4 o'clock. Powell's Drug Store, filled with tobacco, burned. The cause is unknown, but some think a spark from a passing locomotive did it. It was discovered in the top and about the middle of the building. The building was worth about $10,000, with $6,500 insurance. The robbery was important, $16,000. Several other small buildings were burned, making the loss about $30,000, with $23,000 insurance.

Decided Against the O. V.

A claim of G. H. Theil against the Ohio Valley Railroad Company, amounting to $324, was allowed in the United States Court at Louisville Tuesday. Theil conducts a detective agency, and claims the money was expended in guarding the company's property from strikers in October, 1893. Claims of $82 for injuries received by the strikers were denied. The company, however, paid $20,50, expended in bringing one of the strikers to trial, were not allowed.

Happy Has the Key.

On Monday last the Eddyville penitentiary was turned over to J. H. Happy, the newly appointed warden. The inspectors reported everything in the Eddyville penitentiary, with four prisoners convicted at the recent term of Warren Circuit Court. They were Seymour Lambert, white, and Walter Christian, Walter Scott and George Jones, colored.

Callaway People Indicted.

The Calloway county grand jury, in session at Murray, on Monday, returned 23 true bills, principally for minor offenses. Circuit court is still in session there, and four men have been given terms in the pen. A new master Commissioner has not yet been appointed.

Fined on Three Charges.

Loyd Nelson was fined in the Police court yesterday, on three charges, drunkenness, disorderly conduct and using profane language; making in all $22. Nelson repiled the debt and was released.

MEETING OF DAVIS PRESBYTERY.

A Two Day's Session Held in This City this Week.

Davis Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbytery church convened with the church in this city Tuesday afternoon and remains in session until last evening, when it adjourned to meet again in September with the new Hebrew congregation, near the Todd and Logan count line.

The Presbytery organized by the election of Rev. W. R. M. Crump, of Casky, moderator, and Rev. W. J. King, of this city, stateclerk. There were twenty ministers named: Rev. J. A. Allison, of Cynthiana; E. Bagwell, Garrettsburg; A. C. Biddle, Hopkinsville; J. A. Dorris, Elkhorn; M. Gill, D. D. Elkhorn; W. R. M. Crump and W. J. King. Twelve lay delegates were present.

The Presbytery organized by the election of Rev. W. R. M. Crump, as Principal, and Rev. W. J. King as alternate, for the ministry; and elder George Lacy, of Elkhorn, for the eldership; elder A. A. Winfield, of Casky, as treasurer.

Rev. J. M. Gill, of Elkhorn, preached one of his finest sermons to a crowded house Tuesday evening.

AU ARKANSAS Lynchings.

Little Rock, Ark., April 22.—A girl outraged a young white girl in Cleveland County Saturday, and was lynched. The crowd of enraged citizens Saturday night.

Jeff Gardner, the negro, went to the home of Joe Barrows, a respectable white man living near Warren, and finding no one at home except the children, committed the crime. He frightened the children, who were away at school, and then, discharging a gun, and then, seizing the oldest girl, he bound her with a rope and took her to the Saline Bottoms, where he ravished her, repeating his criminal assault for several hours. He then bound her to a bed, drove the slaves, and the posse was soon organized, who after a short search, arrested the negro after a fight, in which he was badly wounded by a shotgun in the hands of the girl's brother. He was fully identified by his victim, and the posse lynched him without delay.

It Wasn't Dr. Clark.

The first witness called was John Hiling, the boy that found the dead body of Pearl Bryan, on Friday. The second witness, Dr. W. S. Ting, saw the body two hours after its discovery, and witnessed both post mortem, gave important testimony. He said the girl must have been killed where the body was found and not earlier than the midnight before her body was found; that she had cut off her head on a sharp iron, and the hand he wielded it a skilled hand.

Wednesday was taken up in examining witnesses and the trial will probably last a week or more, as there are 100 witnesses yet to be heard.

SCOTT JACKSON'S TRIAL.

THE EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES NOW IN PROGRESS.

Large Crowd attend the Trial Each Day and the Interest grows as the Proceedings Progress—Over a Hundred Witnesses to be Examined.

Newport, Ky., April 21.—The case of Scott Jackson for the murder of Pearl Bryan, at Fort Thomas, in this county, was called this morning.

Both sides announced ready and the trial began before Judge Helm. There were throngs of people on the street curious to see Jackson, but there was no excitement other than that of curiosity. The courtroom was crowded early by persons admitted on tickets. There were thirty-six seats reserved for the press and every one was filled. Five women were in attendance in the forenoon and as many in the afternoon.

Just three and a half hours after court convened the jury was sworn in from a verude of 100 men. Of the twelve men nearly all are mechanics and ten are German or of German descent, one is Irish and one of English descent. The negro, Jackson, is not a native Kentuckian on the jury.

After the jury was sworn in Commonwealth Attorney Lockhart read the indictment and stated what the lines of the prosecution would be in the trial. The purpose to which Jackson's character, showing he lived a double life.

The first witness called was John Hiling, the boy that found the dead body of Pearl Bryan, on Friday. The second witness, Dr. W. S. Ting, saw the body two hours after its discovery, and witnessed both post mortem, gave important testimony. He said the girl must have been killed where the body was found and not earlier than the midnight before her body was found; that she had cut off her head on a sharp iron, and the hand he wielded it a skilled hand.

Frank Orders Made.

Washington, April 22.—Several conventions stamped as operating fraudulent enterprises fell into the ban of the Postoffice Department to-day. Postmaster General Wilson issued a lottery and fraud order against the Moon Seed Company, of Chicago, Ill., a lottery originating the American Coupon Investment Company, and issued a fraud order against the Moon Seed Company, of Pueblo, Col., and a fraud order against a company operating under various aliases at one establishment in New York City.

shot by a Neighbor.

Adairville, Ky., April 21.—At 9 o'clock this morning Bob Pearson, a farmer, living near town, was shot and dangerously wounded by Bob Pearson, his neighbor. Pearson was shot twice, once through the right breast and once in the left shoulder. Gunn was struck on the head with a rock and badly wounded.

The trouble arose over the reports that Gunn is alleged to have circled regarding Pearson's daughter.

Extractions Papers Denied.

Frankfort, Ky., April 21.—Deputy Sheriff Davis, of Texas, presented a requisition from the State of Texas for the extradition of John Sebastian, of Magoffin county, who is held on the charge of murder said to have been committed in Texas fourteen years ago. The application was denied on the ground that the papers were irregular.

Gen. Castlemann Will Not Run.

Louisville, Ky., April 22—Gen. John B. Castlemann this afternoon announced his withdrawal from the race for delegate to Chicago from this district. This is his second withdrawal from the race. He will return to Zack Curry and W. B. Haldeman, of Davidson county, was nominated for Gen. Duke sometime ago declined to run.

Negro Names for Congress.

The Republicans of the Sixth Tennessee Congressional district met in Clarksville Tuesday and nominated G. Q. Boyd, colored lawyer of Clarksville, for Congress, and W. B. Bales, of Nashville, was elected delegate to the St. Louis convention and A. M. Tillman, of Davidson county, was nominated elector.

The McKinley men bolted the convention.

The meeting of the teachers of the Baptist Sunday school will be held in the pastor's study, Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock.

AN OPEN LETTER.

To The Democrats of Kentucky Who Favor Bimetallism.

The Democrats, of Kentucky, who are in favor of bimetallism and opposed to the single gold standard, are earnestly urged to turn out to their precinct meetings or county mass conventions, and see that none but bimetallists are sent as delegates to the State Convention.

Last year, a failure on the part of the Democrats, in the rural precincts, to turn out and take part in the conventions, resulted in the State Convention, at Louisville, misrepresenting the real sentiment of the Democratic party.

Large delegations largely made up of Federal officers, who were instructed to secure an endorsement of the administration at all hazards; and cliques, around county courthouses, that are dominant by designing politicians or the like, were sent to draw their political information from the Louisville press, that has grossly betrayed and misrepresented the party.

If the farmers and other laboring men, in the remote districts from the court houses, will turn out and take part in the conventions, the real sentiment of the Democratic party, and declare for bimetallism. All Democrats, who favor bimetallism, are urged to give out day to their party and the country, and attend the convention. Organize in every precinct throughout the State bimetallic clubs and work for the cause without ceasing. If this is not done Federal officers and county politicians will again control the State Convention, and the party will be compelled to the gold standard, and the State will be hopelessly lost to the Republicans.

I would remind all true Democrats, that in urging this action, there is no deviation suggested, from the principles suggested by the party. From 1833 to this day the Democratic party has been uniformly pledged to restore bimetallism to the country, and in every Congress, from 1874 to 1896, a majority of Democrats, in both the House and the Senate, have invariably voted for the free coining of silver up to January 1, 1896, a little over a year ago, no Democrat ever declared for the single gold standard, and no platform of Democracy has ever advocated it.

The Democrats who are departing from the teachings of their party and its history, and are advocating this strange and new doctrine, will destroy all hopes of Democratic supremacy in the nation, if they are allowed to lead. These men who defected from the Democratic party, last year, by open revolt against a ticket of their own selection; and who prevented the election of Senator Blackwell by their shameless treachery. If anything more was needed to warn the people of the dangers of the single gold standard, it is found in the practical operation, in the last two years, of this vicious system. It has imposed upon the people a bonded indebtedness of $262,000,000; has brought about an era of business prostration and bankruptcy in the Republic; and in the history of the Republic, Adairville wiped out all profits from the farmer and the wage earner, and spread universal distress throughout the land. In the two years past the value of all property in the South and West, and in the less fortunate states, has shrunk over $600,000,000, while the money centers of New York and Massachusetts show a large increased valuation.

I again urge all Democrats, who favor bimetallism, to turn out to the conventions, and ask the newspapers, of Kentucky, favorable to this cause, to publish this call.

H. A. SOMMERS,
Chairman State Bimetallic Com.
Elizabethtown, Ky., April 21, 1896.

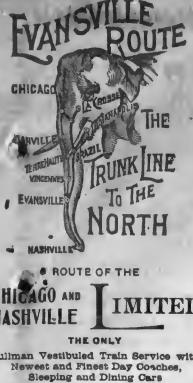

Aygen Attendants resign.

A number of attendants at the asylum handed in their resignations Tuesday. They gave as their reason for the step that they were not well pleased with the recent appointment of two new attendants. Dr. Letcher, the Superintendent, was absent in Florida, and Dr. Hanmer, the physician, informed the strikers that their places could at once be filled if they accepted the resignations. Several of the party reconsidered the matter, however, and decided to remain until the end of the month.

Chas. and Nellie Gibbs, of North Carolina, and Jenny Ditts, of Lexington, Ky., decided to go back to their respective homes the same afternoon. It is understood that their places will be filled at once.

College Concert To Night.

Do not forget the concert at Bethel Female College tonight at 8 o'clock, under the direction of the class of '96. Vocal and instrumental exhibitions and tableaux will make up a most inviting program, of which the playing of the "Mandolin and Guitar Club" of the college will be a conspicuous feature. The tableaux are exceedingly handsome. Admission 25¢.

A Man with a History.

His Body Covered with Lumps. Could not Stand and Thought he was going to dry up.

(From the Evansville Journal.)

Mr. John Williams, of Evansville, is a man with a most interesting history.

"It was in '64, said he, to a reporter who had asked him what he was doing when he was working in the silver mines of New Mexico, that my troubles began.

"From the time I was born I have developed into chronic lameness by the time I was 12 years old. I have never been able to stand or walk, and at times I was paralysed by spells of lameness. On the 11th of April, 1888, I suddenly collapsed, and for days I was unconscious. In fact I was not a man any longer, only a dog. I was not a weight but 70 pounds. Whereas my normal weight is 160 pounds. Over my body there were lumps from the size of a pea to a large orange. My fingers were cramped so that I could not move more than half straighten them. I had entirely lost the use of my hands, and my hand trembled so that I could not drink without spilling the liquid. Nothing would remain in my stomach, and I had to eat little and often. I must dry up before many more days had passed."

"I made a hasty round of the physicians, calling in one after the other, and by the aid of morphine and other medicines they gave me time to live though barely enough to fail."

Here Mr. Thomas Williams, his son, and just a few months ago 18 years of age, the pain of the hand and a purple color, the spaces covered by the mark was suddenly gone.

"On the 11th of October, 1888, I was told what the doctor did by putting morphine in my veins."

"On the 11th of December, 1888, just eight months after I took permanently to bed, I shall never forget the date—my cousin, Joe F. Jeffries, of Evansville, came to see me. He gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, saying that he had cured his son of a similar trouble, and when I told him I had all but died, I followed him directly and began taking the medicine as a result I stand before you today the most surprised man in the world. Look at me, I am as strong as yours; my face has a healthy look about it; I have been attending to my business as usual, and I have gained 20 pounds, and the pills I have gained 30 pounds, and I am still gaining. All the knots have disappeared, and I am as strong as any man in the world."

"Yesterday I rode thirty-seven miles on horseback, I feel tired to-day but not sick. I used to have to ride two to three miles to get the use of the pills I have had but four pills a day, positively that I was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I believe firmly that it is the most wonderful remedy in the world. I am sure that if I have presented to you is known to my neighbors as well as to myself, and they will certify to the truth of my remarkable cure."

A TURKISH CEMETERY.

A City of Slender Shafts Beneath Massive Cypress.

"And why do the Osmanli prefer Scutari as a burial place to any other?"

"Because it is there the trumpet of the archangel will be first heard. The Osmanli who die at Scutari will first rise to meet the next the faithful from other parts of the world. After that the Hebrews, and lastly the Giaours, who follow the gods."

Thus spoke no old turkish Turk, who stood beneath a cypress tree, on the slopes of the world-famed cemetery on the Sea of Marmora.

"All know," he went on, in calm, judicial accents, "that when the last days of the world are drawing near, the Osmanli will be driven forth from Stamboul by the Frank. Then, for a space, there will be trouble and tumult on the earth, the sons of the faithful will fly to Scutari as they retrace their steps, the living and the dead alike, will await the day of judgment."

With that, thinking it was a hurt to his dignity to parley longer with a Giaour, he gathered his robes about him, saluted majestically, then passed slowly away down one of the long, broad avenues leading to the gates of the cemetery, leaving the stranger to wander at his pleasure through that forest of tall tombs standing erect.

The coup d'oeil is picturesque in the extreme. For a few one can see the slender shafts of marble trees beneath the shadow of the massive cypresses—the tree of Allah the Osmanli call it, which points its finger to the sky—while the luxuriant vegetation of the east clings around the base of the slabs, emphasizing their snowy whiteness and preventing them from being too dazzling to the eye.

Each tomb bears its own decoration. A single leaflet, the drooping petals of a rose or graceful from of fern indicate that a female form lies below. A turban or a fez shows that the dead person was a man. Lamps, ostrich eggs, sashes, fringes, and colored fabrics, of varied hues, all have their own significance here and there will be some tall stone, sculptured from end to end, its ornamentation in high relief, encircled by a number of smaller ones, which proves that the father of a family—a man of wealth—rests here, surrounded by the wives and children. A curved scimitar shows that a man of war repose there; an anchor marks the sleeping place of a sailor; a wand of office proves that the dead man held some post of command. So on, till something is learned of all, even though one may not be able to decipher the fantastic Arabic characters which are to be found on most of the dead.

The terms in which the Turk expresses his lamentations are often very pathetic especially when they refer to the loss of his wife or child. Here is one, taken from the tomb of a young girl, which effectively combats the common Western delusion that the Osmanli believe that women are born without souls or hope of a future life.

The cold blast of fate caused this nightingale to wing its way to heaven. There it has found its awaited bliss. Zeinab is the name of her who lies beside her, and her Latin name who wrote these lines, offers humble petition. Weep not for her, though dead, she has become a sojourner in the gardens of Paradise.—St. Paul.

The old gentleman who was principal of Jesus college, Oxford, had the feeling that young men were, for the most part, punks and rascals to be kept in line. He was right. Yet Sunday afternoons he had his undergraduates dinner parties and gave his guests freely of his best, both in the way of provender and sumptuous. At one of these parties the principal, who was a bit of a gourmand, and, although very short-sighted, a most excellent and scientific carver, was preparing to attack a mighty goose which had been put before him.

"Will you allow me to do that for you, Mr. Principal?" exclaimed a young Welshman with more politeness than impudence.

"What bird in front of Mr. M." said the principal, addressing the butler, but eying M. all the time with considerable disfavor, which eventually culminated in a most expressive snuff. M. was rather startled at being thus suddenly taken at his word, but he set to work manfully on the goose with the sort of happy-go-lucky feeling that where there is a will there is a way. But of few things does that insidious proverb hold less good than of carving a goose. And of this fact M. was soon painfully conscious when it came to disengaging a wing. Forthwith, the principal, after another prolonged effort, said to his resourceful butler, "Take that bird away from Mr. M. and bring it back to me!" and then, addressing M., he added: "I have often had occasion to notice, Mr. M., that young men are very fond of undertaking tasks which they have no idea of performing, as well in the matter of carving their personal acquaintances as in anything else."

We are authorized to announce

BENJ. MACLON, TEAMAN, of the Standard Oil Company, candidate for APPELLATE JUDGE in the First Circuit, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The Fairfield correspondent of the Spencer Courier writes. "In speaking of the coming Congressional race, a gentleman of Bardstown, well up in Kentucky politics, said to me: 'You have no idea how much expense there is attached to a race for Congress in this district. Proctor Baer told me in all his races for Congress, he had never had the expense of a single one to exceed $500; but, on the contrary, the race of Tom Robertson against Montgomery cost each candidate near ten thousand dollars to get the nomination, and Montgomery got it over his opponent after a most heated contest. David R. Murray said the average expense of his race against Montgomery two years ago would exceed $2,500, and it is generally understood that Slick Aleck, in his last fight against Murray and John W. Lewis two years ago, spent more than $20,000 and was defeated."

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge has written a stirring article for the May Forum entitled "Our Duty To Cuba," painting in dark colors the story of Spanish tyranny in Cuba, and advocating the recognition of Cuban belligerency. In the same number of The Forum, Professor John Bassett Moore, professor of international law and diplomacy, Columbia University, New York, contends that the Cuban insurgents are not entitled to belligerent rights.

The special election to select a Senator from the Thirteenth Senatorial district took place Tuesday, J. W. Bell, Democrat, was elected by a majority of 261, over Dr. Walton, who was a candidate to succeed himself. Dr. James defeated Pender, his district.

Senator Ben F. Tillman, of South Carolina, spoke to 5,000 people in the Tabernacle at Owensboro Wednesday. Mr. Tillman's speech caused much enthusiasm, especially over his denunciations of the financial policy of Cleveland and Carlisle.

Two-thirds of the delegates to the Republican National Convention have been selected, and leaving out of consideration those that are in doubt, the count stands: McKinley, 318; Reed, 99; Morton, 66; Allison, 38; Quay, 38; Bradley, 16, and Cullom, 12.

The town of Gaylord, Kan., is now entirely under patrician government. The Mayor, Police Judge, Clerk and Council are all women, who are also evenly divided politically, the mayor being a Democrat.

So far as Henderson county is concerned, the sentiment in favor of bimetallism is overwhelming and is rapidly growing. In a short time it will be practically unanimous. Gleason

Of the 15 county conventions held in Illinois all but one have instructed their delegates to vote and work for a platform declaring in favor of the free coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1.

On Monday the Warren County Democratic Committee will meet for the purpose of organizing and selecting the time and manner for holding a primary to nominate candidates for county offices.

Judge John E. Cooper, of Mt. Sterling, has withdrawn from the race for the Democratic Congressional nomination in the Tenth district. His health is the cause.

The Ballard County Democratic Committee has organized and elected S. J. Moore Chairman, and J. J. Grace Secretary. Mr. Moore is Chairman of the district committee.

A Tennessee exchange says a Republican convention without a fussy is a rarity. The trouble is that black and white won't mix.

W. H. Miller, of Lincoln county, a member of the last Constitutional Convention, died suddenly Tuesday.

The Princeton Banner will celebrate May Day by issuing a woman's edition.

Dr. Diaz, the Baptist missionary in Cuba, seems to be in a pretty bad scrape and may die as a common rebel, if Weyler has his way.

The Rhode Island Democratic convention endorsed ex-Gov. William E. Russell, of Massachusetts, for President.

Christian Endeavor Convention New Items.

Hopkinsville, the banner C. E. city in the seventh district, should send a large delegation to the Auburn convention to-morrow. The L. & N. has granted reduced rates to those going, and as the Auburn Endeavorers will entertain all those who attend the cost of going will be a very small item. The party will leave here on the six o'clock morning train, and return at 9:40 in the evening. In one of the most enjoyed district conventions ever held in the state, will have been attended.

We trust that all Endeavorers will by their prayers and efforts help make this convention a success.

PREPARING FOR WASHINGTON '96.

Dr. Clark and Secretary Baer met with the members of the '96 committee in Washington a short time ago to go over the preparations for the international convention.

These committees number about fifteen hundred people. It was inspiring to look into their bright faces and see the "openness" of purpose—the thought of the "96 convention as the best convention that the world has ever known. Secretary Baer presented the chairman of these committees to the audience and asked the members or the committee to stand behind the chairman. Then in a very happy manner gave them specific tasks for their tasks.

At the close of the "charges" Mr. Baer made a stirring appeal to all upon "Tee Responsibility of the Individual Worker." Dr. Clark followed with a talk upon "Spiritual Blessings to be Expected from the '96 Convention."

He spoke of the great wave of Evangelical Endeavor that has swept over the country the past few months among Endeavorers; of the Spirit of God that has filled all our conventions—that where Christ is there is a new birth and new life. He closed with the thought that the ear of the nation was listening for the sound that comes from the '96 convention, and throughout all the world may it ring the glad tidings: "I know that my Redeemer liveth."

Perfect Wisdom

Would give us perfect health. Because men and women are not perfectly wise, they must take medicines to keep themselves perfectly healthy. Perfect Health is the basic of good health. Dr. Clardy Confident

Washington, April 21—"I shall remain here till the close of the session," remarked Representative Clardy this morning. "My convention does not meet till August, and as I have no opposition that I know of there will be no occasion for me to leave here till the close of the session."

Official Call.

Democratic Convention, First Ky., Appellate Judicial District.

Resolved: That a District Convention shall be held in the First Appellate Judicial District of the State of Kentucky, for the purpose of nominating a candidate of the Democratic party to fill the vacancy in the office of judge of the Court of Appeals of the First District.

The first conventions are to be held at the regular voting place of each precinct, in each county of the district, at 2 o'clock p.m., on the 25th day of July 1896, to select delegates to a county convention, to be held at the county seat, at 2 o'clock p.m., on the 27th day of July 1896, at which each county convention delegates shall be elected to represent the county in the District Convention, to be held at 11 o'clock a.m., on July 31, 1896, at Hopkinsville, Ky.

That the basis of representation from each precinct to the District Convention shall be one delegate for every 200 votes and each fraction over 100 votes entitled to one delegate at the Presidential election in 1892. Changes made in the present lines since November election in 1892, in the creation of new or the alteration of old precincts, will be ignored in holding these precinct meetings.

That, all well-known Democrats will be entitled to participate in the conventions. W. M. Reed, Chm.

is never experienced by bicycle riders. Spring is the season for nature's renewal. Nature sometimes needs help. There are muscles in your leg that have NEVER been exercised, and never will be until you mount a BIKE.

There are little arteries all through your system in which the blood stagnates and thus disease is engendered. To arouse that dormant fluid and give the heart a new impetus RIDE A WHEEL.

In the East and North where they are quicker to recognize a good thing BANKERS AND MERCHANTS

70 Years Old ride bicycles, and are rejuvenated and take a new lease on life. Clearing the system clears the head, which in turn clears you of debt.

The moral of all this is Buy a Wheel.

A SHAKE FOR A MINE

Property Valued at $100,000 Staked on a Game of Dice.

A silver mine changed hands recently as the result of a dice game between R. A. Bell and Pat Welch. Each owned a one-half interest in the Belle of Clancy, in Lump Gulch. The mine was worth considerable, for it was one of those properties that are not easily sold. It belongs to those who own them. Considerable development work has been done, and there is already a good streak of ore, although not so much as the owners thought they ought to have. In discussing the development of the mine they found they could not agree on some important matters of policy. There was a deadlock, and with the prospect that it would not be broken, they decided that it would be best for both if the property were held by one man.

"Let us rattle the bones for it," suggested Welch.

"What shall it be?" was Mr. Bell's prompt reply.

"Three shakes, horses," Mr. Welch thought would be about the thing. Mr. Bell philosophically reflected that what was sauce for the goose was sauce for the gander. To be sure, there might be luck in the "rocky road to Dublin," or in "dry dead," or in "baseball dice," or in "poker dice," as they play the game in California, but it would be as likely to be luck for Mr. Welch as for Mr. Bell, and, after considering a moment, he said, "Three shakes, horses."

"That's good enough for him,"

They dropped into Stoff & Ophain's and called for the bones. They were handed to Mr. Bell and he took the first rattle at them. On the first flop he threw three aces, and on each succeeding throw another ace came to keep them company. Five aces were so good that Mr. Bell repose in confidence, while he awaited the result of the first horse. Nor was his confidence misplaced. His opponent had but three sixes, the best he could do. Mr. Welch, as is the custom, kept the dice box and shook again.

"Four sixes," he said as he picked up the dice and handed the box along. "That's good enough this time." You can't shake five of a kind every time."

Mr. Bell couldn't. He managed to get a pair of fives, having split a pair of deuces in the first place because he thought they weren't good enough. It was "horse and horse."

Then Mr. Bell tried with all his might. The result was four fives.

"Blow in the box," said Mr. Welch to Charley Snedaker, who was refereeing the game. Mr. Snedaker complied. He also made a few mysterious passes over the box and muttered an incantation taught him by a medicine man down on the bank of Victoria Nyanza.

With a smile of confidence Mr. Snedaker took the rattle in his hand again. "They have to come now," he said as he rolled the ivories out.

They rolled across the face of the showcase and settled down, while both participants tried to look as if there wasn't $100,000 at stake.

"Five aces," said the referee.

"The settles it," said Mr. Bell.

"It was that breath that did the business," said Mr. Welch joyfully.

The deed was signed the next day.

An authority on mankind has given his views on the sort of men that make the best husbands. Among the really nice ones he classes the man who is fond of fishing, the lawyer, and the all-around journalist. He does not enthuse over the popular doctor as a husband, and a musical genius or a man of letters gives him cold chills and shudders. The author, he says, is so fond of his fine sentences that he is disagreeable when the baby cries, and makes himself generally odious about his fondness for the children. The author's domineering inflections may come along. The husband cares for little except his art, and the wife is often secondary to the claims of the prima donna, or the sympathetic creature whose soul is as full of melody as his own.

All in all the good journalista seems to have the most strong points. He is a bit of a philosopher, is likely to be practical, makes the best of what cannot be helped, and is full of alternatives. The lawyer is good to have in the house. He is likely to alert, a good judge of human nature, a good talker, and as fond of listening as of having a friend of his own voice. He studies human nature at home as well as abroad, and is altogether a good fellow.

The politician is a diplomat, and while he sometimes leaves all of his diplomacy outside of his front door, this is not always the case. The bachelor comes in for a lively scoring, especially the one who claims that he has no small vices. Nature abhors a vacuum, and if there are no small vices, it is pretty safe to say that there may be some large ones that will be pretty difficult to deal with.

There is quite a bit of sound sense in these criticisms, and now it is in order for somebody to tell how a man should select a wife.—N. Y. Ledger.

GENESIS OF A "CRANK."

The Effect of Large Ideas on Small Minds.

One of the most interesting of psychological studies, says Century, is the effect of large ideas upon a small mind. A large idea entering a large mind balances and dignifies it; its effect upon a small mind is often completely upsetting. The man becomes intellectually top-heavy and unsteady.

When a man becomes observant of this phenomenon he finds much to amuse and again much to deplore. He is amused, for instance, to notice the results of this overloading throughout a long career. Where a subject is thus acted upon by a succession of ideas, each embodying an important truth which the man is incapable of carrying, his receptivity to impression proves to be his bane. The sudden realization for the first time makes a monomaniac of him. Another sudden realization of still another important principle and he is spinning off at a tangent.

But there are times when the effect of large ideas upon little minds is most mischievous and deplorable. This is bred the race of incurable cranks in philosophy, theology, art and politics. The word "crank" has been maliciously misused for purposes of cynical ridicule, but it is too descriptive a name to set aside. The congenital crank is always started on his career of inutility by this application of a big idea to a small brain. The most tiresome thing about him is his self-complacency, due to his knowledge of the fact that better men have been mislead by his own accurately descriptive cognomen.

TELEPHONE AS A PROPHET.

Foretells Temperature Changes and a Storm's Approach.

You have, of course, heard the snapping of the wires and the fizzing of a telephone in a frying-pan, in a telephone, says the New York World. Undoubtedly you have also noticed that this sound is more pronounced during or just before a storm. The telephone is, in fact, one of the most sensitive instruments in use, and when properly constructed and adjusted is susceptible of extremely minute sounds. On account of its sensitiveness it is often used as an electrical testing instrument for locating leaks, etc.

The suggestion is now made to utilize the telephone as a barometer. This may be accomplished by placing in the earth five or six rods from each other, the wires from them being all connected at their lower ends, so as to increase the surface of contact. The earth at the face of these bars should be kept saturated with a solution of chlorhydrate of ammonia, applications once every week or two being sufficient. The two bars are to be connected by wires with a telephone. Twelve or fifteen hours before a storm a chirping sound will be heard in the receiver, which will gradually increase as the storm comes nearer, finally sounding like the patter of hail on a metal roof.

Each lightning flash a sound like a dull blow on the receiver will be heard. Previous to changes of temperature there will be a murmur like the distant song of birds.

Deaf Mute for Business.

Charley Schultz is in jail at Colfax, Wash., and he is glad that he is. Charley is a young lad and his incarceration is due to the fact that he stole a set of razors from his employer in Montana. But while he was working in this barbershop he made many friends and they pitted him—for Charley was a deaf mute.

He played cards, though, and well. Being deaf the man at the card table talked freely and, curiously enough, Charley heard every word that they said for he was deaf for speculative purposes only.

This fact was once suspected and the local western men, that is, the men that if they talked of hanging Charley might recover his speech and hearing.

They not only talked of it but they actually stretched his neck and Charley, in his own words, "stuck to his game" and is still alive, well-to-do and only in prison for one month.—N. Y. World.

Mr. James Payn, the London writer, tells a reasonable story. He says a young man, who was attempting to "believe an object" contrary to the wishes of her father, "a man of thaws and siwens," and one day the latter kicked the lover violently into the street. In a day or two (after recovery) the rejected suitor, apparently not one whit disengaged, called at the house once more.

"What, again!" exclaimed the paterfamilias, putting on his well-ordered boots for action. "No, no," cried the young man, "I have given up the idea of winning your girl, but in consequence of that astounding kick give me t'other day, I have been requested on the strength of my earnest recommendation to the committee, to ask you to join our football club."

A Word to Physicians.

Do you know that many broad minded physicians are using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound in their practice? They have found the results they gave as satisfactory results for all throat and lung complaints as this great cough medicine. For sale by C. K. Wylie.

The Carrollton Democrat is a typographical jewel.

During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Reach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he was cured, he said, "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." "I then thought I had found this remedy and if necessary to try it again, I would buy it again." It is now on the market for over 60 cents per bottle by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

A Known Fact.

An absolute cure for sick headache, dyspepsia, malaria, sour stomach, dizziness, constipation, bilious fever, piles, torpid liver and all kindred diseases.

Tutt's Liver Pills

Ball playing and other games are now prohibited in the courthouse yard at Carrollton.

The man who stands idly by and sees the life fade out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in perfect enjoyment of vigorous health, becomes less and less attractive, not known of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength. Perhaps her husband can not persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable "examinations" and "jouls." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use for over twenty years. It isn't an expensive medicine, there are no chances about it. It is a certain cure for all damages, weaknesses, irregularities and displacements of internal organs peculiar to women.

The Illinois Central road may be extended to Uniontown.

You must not take headaches too seriously. They are simply a result of overeating, indigestion, stomach and digestive diseases. Go to your druggist and ask for Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills. They cost but 25 cents, and give you a complete course of treatment which, in two or three weeks' time, will remove all bile, purify the blood, strengthen the heart, and bring the red glow of health to your cheeks. The treatment consists of Pills and tiny Tonic Pellets—three weeks' supply. Try a free sample dose.

From present indications Kentucky will have plenty of plums, peaches, apples and strawberries.

Chamberlain's Colds, Coughs and Diarrheas Remedy. This is the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. It acts quickly and can always be depended upon. ORIGIN OF THE ROSE.

Queen of Flowers is of Ancient Lineage and Distinguished History.

Some indication of the origin of the rose, both in time and in country, is probably given in its name. This undoubtedly comes down through the Latin from the Greek "rodop," a word which is now agreed to be, in the wider sense, oriental, not Greek. But to which of the two great families of language it belongs is less certain. Heyn maintains it to be Iranian—that is, that of the Aryan family—of the older tongue of Persia and Bactria; Persia, Persian; Bactria, Bactrian; and so on. The name "rose" is the native country of the rose, but to Dr. Skeat, who has the majority of modern authorities on his side, it devalues it to be a pure Persian word, the Arabic "ward," a flowering shrub, thus denoting the flower of flowers par excellence. It is worth noticing that the Persian word "gul" similarly meant at first only a perfumed flower, but has come to be used of the rose alone. "Utrro flos florum, sic est dominus ista domum" is the emphatic way in which the inscription over the lovely chapter-house at York claims it as being the very flower of architecture.

But theories, however, of the name agree with all other indications that we can trace in placing the original home of the rose, much as that of our earliest forefathers, on the central or western central district of Asia; but, instead of spreading only in a westerly direction, the rose took, apparently, a more catholic view of the earth, and expanded impartially east and west, without showing any reluctance about longitude, while disliking the more violent changes of temperature implied by an extension of its limits. It was spread by travelers as far south as Abyssinia in one hemisphere and Mexico in the other; but it never seems, voluntarily, to come very near to the equator. Northward, however, nothing seems to stop it, since it has conquered Iceland, Greenland and Kamtchata.

"In Iceland, so (in) fertile in vegetation that in some parts the natives are compelled to feed their horses, sheep and oxen on dried fish, we find the rose robustness, with its pale, solitary, cup-shaped flowers; and in Lapland, blooming almost under the snow of that severe climate, the natives seeking mosses and lichens for fuel, and the rose, with its fragrance and robust, the former of which, brilliant in color and of a sweet perfume, enlivens the dreariness of Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Russia."
